

GATCOMBE AS BRANCH MANAGER

General Seafoods Makes Important Announcement As To Local Officials

Officials of General Seafoods this morning announced that Fred C. Gatcombe, former president and general manager of Snow Shipyards Inc., has been engaged as branch manager of General Seafoods, Shipyards Division, Rockland, Me., and has entered upon his duties.

Mr. Gatcombe, together with the late Philip Smith, brought the yard from its depleted condition of more than 10 years to one of the largest and best of wooden shipyards on the Atlantic seaboard.

Its war record of excellence in building wooden ships for the Navy and the reputation of its pre-war trawlers such as the St. George, North Star and Belmont, doubtless greatly influenced General Seafoods officials in buying the yard and establishing it as their construction and repair division for their entire fleet, knowing that here they could obtain the type of work they wished from experienced capable shipyard workers.

At the same time, Mr. Cahill announced that Harold S. Leach had been appointed to the post of personnel director; Jesse E. Bradstreet as controller; Everett K. Mills, purchasing agent; Parker S. Adams, yard superintendent and Maurice R. Snow as machine superintendent, all in keeping with president Alphen's statement of the first of this week that all employees of Snow Shipyards Inc. would be retained.

The yard will operate as a part of the General Seafoods Fish Division and will come under the supervision of Joseph M. Cahill who is manager of all Fish Division operations from Halifax to Boston.

Nino Anastasio has bought the interests of his brother, Nick Anastasio in the barber shop which they have operated in partnership at 427 Main street for several years.

A special speaker, Rev. Mr. Nickerson of Portland will speak at 2:30 and 7:30 Sunday at the Pentecostal Tabernacle. Sunday School at 1:30.

New Chief Begins

Linscott Heads Police Force—Captain and Sergeant To Be Appointed

Jesse O. Linscott former patrolman on the Rockland Police Force, officially took up his duties as Chief of Police this morning, a position to which he was appointed last Tuesday by City Manager Farnsworth.

Charles M. Richardson, former Mayor, and Chief of Police for the past two and one-half years, retired from office at the close of city business last night, in keeping with his resignation, tendered some time ago.

City ordinances which provide for a Captain and Sergeant of Police to act as assistants to the Chief are now waiting public hearing and second reading before becoming law 20 days later. This will bring possible appointments to these positions into the early part of March.

Mr. Farnsworth states that examinations will be held for these positions which will be prepared and given under the merit system as was the case with the appointment for Chief.

Work Will Begin Within A Few Weeks

The Farnsworth Memorial which will be built between Spring and Elm streets, commencing the coming Spring.

Contracts have been awarded for the construction of the Farnsworth Gallery and the adjacent store building. This news is first announced to The Courier-Gazette by the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co., trustees under will of Lucy C. Farnsworth who desired this memorial to her father, William A. Farnsworth, and her brother, James R. Farnsworth.

Actual work at the site should be under way by April or even March. The larger of the two buildings is to contain the art collections and art library. It faces the Farnsworth homestead. At the corner of Main and Elm streets will be the store and office building. Connecting the two buildings is the heating plant, serving both. It is hoped that local labor will be largely employed on this work.

The building for the museum and library is 112 feet long and 48 feet wide. The main entrance is at the middle of the longer side. It is reached by a broad walk running through from Elm to Spring street.

The building has a high basement, a first floor and mezzanine story and a large attic.

The basement has a small gallery for temporary exhibitions, a children's coat room, a lecture hall and stage seating 70 people, a receiving room for deliveries, studio space and the usual services.

The main floor has two large picture galleries which may be subdivided, a smaller print room, a check room and a large library room facing Elm street.

A small mezzanine gives space for the work of the museum. The attic contains very ample storage and setting-up space and a large north lighted research and work room. Stairs, a dumb waiter and a private elevator connect all floors.

The store and office building has a 54-foot frontage on Main street and a depth of 100 feet on Elm street. At the street level is store space of little less than 5000 square feet.

This can be divided as desired, if there is more than one tenant. Below is ample basement space. On the second floor is about the same amount of space for private offices and the usual services, or it can be used for other purposes.

Both buildings are of brick painted white to match the Farnsworth homestead which forms a part of the group. The museum has a granite basement and the simple hip roof is to be of Monson slate.

The architects are Wadsworth of Boston and Tuttle of Portland. The general contractor is the J. Slotnick Co., of Boston, the lowest bidder.

Other contractors to be employed on the work are: Heating and ventilating, The Files Co., of Portland; electrical work, E. S. Bowles Co., Portland; granite, Deer Island Granite Corp., Stonington; structural steel, Meguire & Jones Co., Portland; brick, North Yarmouth Brick Co., Portland.

The Black Cat

(By The Roving Reporter)

E. H. Philbrick says that Robert Mills solution of the dog and fox item was wrong, and expresses the hope that an answer be forthcoming from A. Jay See, whose dog it was.

Commenting upon the fried apple pie item in the "This and That" column, Jessie M. Philbrook of Matineux writes:

"When I was a child my mother made those fried apple pies, but they were called turnovers. The crust was made like biscuit, with an egg added to the mixture. Roll the dough 1/4 inch thick, size of a small pie plate, fill half with the apple, wet the edge, and put the other half over the apple, pressing the edge together firmly. Fry them in hot fat, using a spider on top of the kitchen stove. When browned nicely on one side, turn and fry the other side. (This may be why they were called turnovers). Cooks two at the same time. People sometimes used mince instead of green or dried apple sauce for filling. Fortunate is the home, where can now be found apples of any kind, green or dried to make turnovers."

The thinly clad Rockland woman who ventured out onto the doorstep to procure a bottle of milk on one of the recent sub-zero mornings soon wished she hadn't, for the spring-lock door swung to behind her, leaving her a prey to the intense cold. She finally reached the shelter of a neighbor's house, where she telephoned her predicament to the landlord of the building she occupied, and a key was quickly forthcoming.

A Rockland steamboat captain, who died some years ago, liked to have his coffee diluted—half coffee and half water. The new cook, unaware of his preference, asked one morning, "What will you have, sir, tea or coffee?" "Oh, half and half, as usual," he replied. And that's what the new cook brought, only it was half tea and half coffee. Never mind what the captain said.

Congress is being asked to investigate the shirt shortage with which the country is now afflicted. But the shirts have been so short in recent years that their absence will not make an awful lot of difference.

The number of persons living on farms decreased 5,000,000, or 15 per cent, between 1940 and 1945.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

If I had my life to live again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

LIFE'S SIMPLE JOYS
When all is said and done,
The simple things are best;
Cool rain and goodly sun,
Hard work and earnest rest.
When one has reached the end,
And these have been bestowed,
Warm love . . . earned bread . . . a friend
How fair has been the road!
To sit awhile and dream
Before my open door;
To watch the sunlight gleam—
What sane man asks for more?
To see my garden grow,
What dearer thing there is
To hear the great winds blow . . .
Child-laughter . . . memories . . .
A hand close clasped in mine,
My own green bit of sod,
And in my soul, divine,
The living grace of God.

Basketball Battles

Rockland High's fine team walked over Belfast by the resounding score of 54 to 16. The game was a dull one, kept alive solely by the shooting of Murgita, Marsh and McLellan, and by the exceptional brilliance of Shapiro's floor work, the teamwork and passing.

In the fourth quarter Murgita, the evening's high man stuck in seven baskets. His final total was 19 points. It was noted that on passes from Shapiro, and other members of the squad, he scored easily a good nine times out of ten. McLellan and Marsh with 12 points and nine points respectively were next in line. Other Rockland scorers were Holden, Teel and Kelsey.

Sea Scouts Praised

At Annual Inspection Wednesday Night—Ring Presented to J. A. Perry

The annual inspection of Red Jacket troop of Sea Scouts was held Wednesday night at the ship's quarters in Gen. Berry engine house. Commodore Johnson of Augusta, the inspecting officer highly praised Skipper Southard, his mates and crew for their excellent appearance and large turnout in one of the heaviest storms of the year.

Following the inspection, Skipper Southard presented a Sea Scout ring to First Mate J. Alton Perry in appreciation of his excellent work with the ship. The ring, was originally worn by Skipper Thomas Sweeney who resigned to resume his duties with the Merchant Marine where he has made a brilliant war record as Master, who gave it to Southard upon his taking office.

Several former Sea Scouts were present, having returned from war service, and participated in the inspection ceremonies.

MAINE STATE RACING

A new member of the Maine State Racing Commission, Ralph A. Jewell of Fairfield, was elected its chairman when the board organized Tuesday, and a former Knox County man, Miles B. Mank of Portland, was elected secretary. In an endeavor to straighten out some of the apparent difficulties relating to dates of the State Fair Association's conference is soon to be held with those officials. The North Knox Fair was among those whose dates had been changed.

SUCCESS GREET'S MARCH OF DIMES

Judging from countrywide reports the March of Dimes, given in behalf of the infantile paralysis fund, is going to be a tremendous success, as very few localities are lagging in that respect. The Rockland motion picture houses swung into the campaign with the promptness and wholeheartedness they always exhibit on such occasions and into the hat has gone a very considerable sum contributed by generous donors who are only too glad to assist.

STASSEN WOULD BE A STAYER

More and more we hear of the availability of Captain Harold E. Stassen as a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination. The former Governor of Minnesota, who served as an officer in the U. S. Navy during the last war, has evidently impressed that keen judge of men Mark Sullivan from whose letter in a recent issue of the New York Herald Tribune the following is quoted:

If Captain Stassen were President and sat in a conference his immense store of vitality would count greatly. It is not that he would knock heads together; he is not that kind. It is not merely that he would outlast the others as he would. It is rather that he would prevail by sustained and unexhausted pressure in behalf of the necessity of agreement.

Captain Stassen, as a possibility for the Republican Presidential nomination, will be helped if the public realizes that sheer vitality is a seriously desirable quality in a President. Vitality can stand up to the number and burden of the tasks. It could dominate, instead of being overwhelmed by, the immense and sprawling number partly mesh and partly tangle, of departments, agencies and bureaus which the executive branch of government has come to be. And vitality could resist the pressure groups which drive ruthlessly for special interests. Captain Stassen's vitality goes with his comparative youth. He is 39. Toward Captain Stassen young voters might have a feeling of fraternity. That might offset a detriment the Republican party bears.

A Fine Or Jail

That Alternative Offered To An Alleged Rockland Wife Beater

In Municipal Court Wednesday morning, Alvin S. Gray of Rockland was found guilty of assault and battery on charges brought by his wife, Minerva Gray.

Judge Dwinall fined him $300 and cost of court or 90 days in jail, stating that he would not condone confirmed wife beaters, pointing out that Gray had previously been before the court on similar charges.

After a consultation of the attorneys, Gray was placed on probation for a period of one year with Deputy Sheriff Ernest M. Gray being appointed special probation officer by the court.

Charges arose from a family disagreement last Saturday during which Mrs. Gray alleges that her husband struck her on the chin and kicked her.

Would Go To Augusta

Members of the Camden Retail Merchants Committee, William P. Kelley, chairman, Kenneth Weymouth, Leon Poland, Henry Baldwin and Edward Prescott, will mail this week some 50 ballots to downtown, businessmen (and women) who will vote on six subjects:

Captain Curtis Payson of Uniontown, who served four and one-half years in the Army, attached to the Fifth Air Corps, and who will soon open to the type of packing that the firm intended to do and the property was tentatively sold to Frederick J. Dolan and associates of Milton, Massachusetts.

The Dolan interests spent a rumored $50,000 in remodeling the buildings to suit their purposes and on the installation of a fast freezer plant and ice making machinery. Suddenly ceased operations last Fall.

The property was reported to have temporarily reverted to the Witham group and it wasn't until Wednesday of this week that the final deeds were filed at Knox County Registry of Deeds, transferring the property from the Withams to Dolan.

There appears to be misunderstanding as to the License and Permit ordinance already given its first reading by the City Council, and to be given its public hearing next Monday at 7.30 p. m., at the City Council Room.

This is in part due to a misunderstanding as to the new procedure now in effect relative to passage of city ordinances. Under our previous charter, ordinances could be, and were, passed in a single night under suspension of rules, and the first thing the citizen knew about

Under the new charter, the picture is entirely different. When introduced, an ordinance can be given

He's Coming Here

Famous Harmonica Player To Be Heard Feb. 22 in Community Concert

Under the auspices of Knox Community Concert Association comes John Sebastian, the harmonica virtuoso, who plays here Feb. 22 at the Community Building. He comes from Philadelphia, and is the son of a banker.

John Sebastian has been an expert harmonica player since his childhood. At 12, he was soloist with John Philip Sousa's band. In High School he won a national contest, and as a result was sent to teach the harmonica to classes of Southern mountain folk. During his diplomatic and legal student days, he kept up his playing as a hobby, and finally became so interested in the many possibilities he found in his instrument that he decided to make music his career.

Once he entered the professional music world, he soon outgrew the status of a "novelty." He has been soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra under Eugene Ormandy, the Rochester Civic Symphony under Guy Fraser Harrison, the NBC Symphony under Frank Black, and the Radio City Music Hall Symphony under Erno Rapee. For G. Schirmer Inc. he made a record album entitled "A Harmonica Recital." He has been guest soloist over the major networks with Rudy Vallee, the Philco "Hall of Fame," Lannie Ross, the Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin street, the Coca-Cola Hour, and he played a 14 week series of solo programs over the Blue Network. Sebastian is also a composer, his work of this kind including "Moroccan Serenade" and "Peruvian Inca Dance," which he includes in his programs.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—Believe I am as patriotic as anyone can be, having served and fought overseas in World War I, and having three sons in World War II, all enlisted. Three of us at the age of 15 years; with one of my sons giving his life for his Country and Flag.

I say this not to boast that my sons and myself are more patriotic than any one else, but because the new license fees pending under the new city charter, on flags are a disgrace to every veteran and citizen.

Our boys have fought and given their lives to protect our flag. The veterans have kept our flag aloft under all war conditions since the days of the Revolution. They have defended it from the four corners of the world, and now if they want to display it on public property, on a sidewalk, on our Main street, in front of our stores, then they must pay a permit fee of $2 and secure a $500 bond.

This fee is for all citizens if they wish to display our flag where encroachment will be on public property. Citizens I have written many times on this new Charter, but I never gave a thought or even dreamed that a tax to display a flag would ever happen under any form of City Government in Rockland.

This kind of Government seems more on the kind they had in Germany, or did they have that kind even there? I urge all citizens to back me up in this and make it their business to be present at the City Council room next Monday at 7 p. m. to voice their objections to this permit slap in the face to us all. I say speak and you will be heard, that is if your courage will let you. Oliver R. Hamlin, Past State Commander Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Mr. Moran Explains

proposed law and the hearing thereon. During that period all members of the Council are glad to discuss such proposed laws with citizens, and to give to them facts instead of unfounded rumors. Any citizen can get information "straight from headquarters" by asking for it.

Then comes the opportunity afforded by the public hearing, at which any citizen can express his views, for or against the proposed law. Such hearing also develops complete information and thus is the best of all source of information for citizens. Any errors or imperfections in any proposed law can then be corrected.

After the hearing, the City Council can pass the proposed law "as is" (which will probably be rare) making such changes as it desires, or pass it with amendments, thus to decline to pass it at all. Whatever law the Council does pass must be published, and is held in suspension for 30 days during which citizens if dissatisfied can circulate referendum petitions and by filing the requisite number of names (500) can hold up the law until it is voted upon by the people at the polls next election day. With such a democratic procedure available to our citizens, citizens can really do something about laws, they can participate in making their own laws.

Citizens however should remember that rights are accompanied by responsibilities. This new local democracy can be wrecked upon the rocks of local citizen irresponsibility. Citizens must inform themselves on these issues, so they will be too wise to be influenced by any irresponsible and uninformed person. This is our city; we must work together we must co-operate, to make it a better city. Destructive critics rarely can or do offer any better program than the one they criticize; under their leadership the city would get exactly nowhere.

If put up to a hearing, the property tax would get very few votes; yet we must have the property tax to pay for the expense of local government. License and permit fees likewise are not greeted with any enthusiasm, either by the City Council levying them or by the people paying them, but we must have them to help pay for government. Only those persons or acts which the State Law authorizes to be taxed, are or can be included in this ordinance.

The City Council must find a way to bridge the gap between the excess of $35,000 expenditures over estimated income appropriated by the last City Council in advance for the current year; if anyone has any constructive ideas as to alternative legal sources of income, THAT would be helpful, but to just say "I don't want to pay" is hardly helpful and won't pay any bills.

Citizens are demanding more and more service, and rightfully so. However, they must then be ready to pay the bill. You can't have municipal service without paying for it. Also, the city is as much affected by higher prices for labor and material as is the private citizen.

In the license and permit ordinance on which a public hearing will be held next Monday night, there are some errors, and some sentences not clear which should be clarified. The Council can correct errors and clarify the ordinance as needed. The advice and counsel of constructively minded citizens in that connection. For instance, the City Council members have no intention of taxing the American Flag, being quite as patriotic as anyone else in Rockland; the Council is, however, considering the taxing of advertising banners placed across the street.

The awning tax is proposed only for those being so low as to inconvenience passers-by; perhaps an outright prohibition would be more acceptable to our citizens; that is the type of thing on which the Council not only welcomes, but invites constructive suggestions. Note the word "constructive." The intention of the ordinance was not to provide cumulative charges on garages or theatres; the one charge for garage or theatre is all that is intended by the ordinance. Bonds are required whenever damages could be caused to public or private property by some citizen's permitted act, so that the City won't unjustifiably be obliged to pay such damages.

Again, the City Council invites all citizens to all meetings, and especially to all hearings; they are all public; come, and help your City Council; come, and be informed as to your City Government. Participate in this new democracy you have never before had. But when you participate, do so with a due regard for your responsibility as well as for your rights; remember this is your city, and will be what you want it to be if you go to work to make it that way. The City Government asks for, and needs, your co-operation. You owe it to yourself.

The only ordinances your Council wants to enact are those which a majority of citizens want. If citizens will study ordinances as presented, in order to be sure to know what they want, and tell us, that co-operation will enable Rockland to have excellent laws. No local government in a democracy can rise higher in quality than the level of local citizenship.

The Rockland citizen is King under the new city charter; let us hope he will rule wisely.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime many people have to get up nights. Frequent urination, backache, and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable rest and sleep. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Deane's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Deane's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Deane's Pills.

Oliver's Questions

Discusses Chief Of Police Examination and Other Matters

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:

1. What is your education? High School, other? (10).

2. Give your experience in public speaking and lecturing. (10).

3. What police training schools have you attended and what marks attained? (10).

4. Give your police experience. a. Number of years. b. Rank held. (10).

5. Give your administrative experience where you have had charge of a police organization. (10).

Duties As An Officer

6. If you were off duty and on your way home what action would you take if you witnessed a fight on a public street? (2).

7. Is a police officer of any rank allowed to carry on any other business? (2).

8. If you see a person threaten another person with violence, is it your duty to interfere? (2).

9. When may a police officer use a. his club. b. his revolver. (2).

10. Mention some street conditions of a police officer on duty should take note of.

The above questions were given to seven candidates for the office of chief of police and were the only ones offered to me as a candidate for the office. I understood that all appointments were to be on the merit system, and that the best man would win according to his merits, which include physical appearance, character, experience in public speaking, being a veteran, police experience, height and weight.

I would like to submit to the citizens and readers of The Courier-Gazette my qualifications for this position and ask you if you think the merit system was used, taking nothing away from the man appointed. Was it another political appointment? Or is it Oliver, just ran?

I am a veteran like four others who took the examination and that counts for five points. I am a past State Commander, a past National Deputy Chief of Staff, for New England States, a member of the National Speakers Bureau, past commander twice of the local Post of the Veterans Of Foreign Wars. I have been public speaking from one end of this State to the other for the past 12 years.

As to my character I am a 32° Mason and member of the Odd Fellows, the Legion, the V.F.W., Camera Club, Grange, both local and State, Townsend Club No. 1 and Locomotive Engineers. I say this because you must be a pretty good man to be taken into these organizations.

I served as an M. P. overseas in the first world war when detailed to do so. I served as a special deputy sheriff of Knox County. I served as a Government investigator for the State of Maine for two years, and on the Rockland, police Department over two years. I was a prizefighter for 16 years, off and on and that places me in a good physical condition for the position as a chief. I attended High School I organized the first Home Defense Corps in the State, after the war broke out.

My reputation is as clean as a lily. My only bad habit is that I do open my mouth and say the things I know to be true, and when I know it is for the best interest to the people of Rockland. I know that a lot of folks dislike me because I have courage to say things against those who do things that are not for the best interest of all.

Is that why I am not wanted for a public job? Do not the people want a man who can speak for himself, one who can not be bought or sold, one who can stand on both feet and speak and fight for his people without any strings on him. What kind of a man do the people in power want for a public servant I ask? I ask you people who voted for this Charter, are you getting the things you wanted? Did the owners of Taxi Cabs, garages, filling stations, lunch rooms, pool rooms, junk yards, and others vote to have a new license law such as is now pending. Did you vote to pay a tax to fly your National Flag, to hang out an awning? Did you vote to plough your own sidewalk and sand it six hours after a storm, or pay a fine of $10 or pay for someone else to do the work. Did you vote to pay $1.00 so that your child could ride his or her bicycle on our streets? Did all of the local organizations vote to pay for permit to run a benefit dance unless they are a corporation?

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, are not a corporation like many others in Rockland. Do we have to have a permit to run a dance to help our veterans? And must we be bonded to do this? It seems to me that the people of Rockland, who pay the bills for this are being hit very hard. I know that you can't make a New York, or a Washington out of our City, as some of our leaders would like to have you think, and if they do you will pay all the freight, and I mean pay. I am of the honest belief that the people of Rockland, should go before Legislature next session and have our charter changed back to the town form of government, and we would all live in peace and without the added cost we now have or will in the near future. The poor and rich alike are hit. Now my good people of Rockland, they can lead you to water, but they can't make you drink, you can make Rockland, the way you want it, but you can't do it if you stay home and let George do it for you. Come folks let's snap out of it and go out and get the kind of people and government we want. Start by being present at the City Building Monday night, at 7:00.

Oliver R. Hamlin.

INTIMATE VIEWS OF VINALHAVEN

History, Home Life and Personal Recollections

By SIDNEY L. WINSLOW

In a previous installment of this baseball history I made the statement that the Knox County League ceased to exist in 1903, this was an error for that was really the big and decisive year of the contest which ended with Vinalhaven in possession of the pennant where it still reposes, awaiting the glad and exciting day somewhere in the future when perhaps another Knox County league may come into being and coastal Maine thrill and tense to the cry of "Batter up!"

This famous battle trophy made its last public appearance, to date, when it floated from the Liberty Pole at the Soldiers' Monument during Vinalhaven's sesqui-centennial celebration in 1939.

All was quiet in matters pertaining to baseball during the following year of 1904 and attendance to what few games there was meagre. Vinalhaven's Baseball Association which had so loyally and royally come to the force in support of the team now found itself quite deeply in the red, financially, and it was some months before the account was liquidated.

As previously stated, local interest in baseball took a decided slump and several years elapsed before the game stood much in the limelight but never before (and probably never again) did Vinalhaven go so utterly baseball crazy as it did in those exciting days in the early 1900's.

Never again will our busy Main street and local industrial centers take on that Sunday appearance, ambitious merchants lock their door, nor diligent housewives neglect domestic duties, because of the national game of baseball as they did in that sweet long ago—yet in spite of all these inconsistencies they were happy, gloriously exciting, unforgettable days.

The story of local baseball is a long one, and may only be lightly touched here, so I will leave the unfolding of the story in its entirety to some future historian, better versed in sporting lore than I but before ending my version will try and jot down the dates and personnel of the several High School teams which, from time to time, have won the trophies in the Interscholastic League for Vinalhaven.

I regret to say, however, that I am unable at this time, to record the position of the different players on all the above mentioned teams. I am indebted to Leon Arey of Vinalhaven for the following information in connection with the contests.

V. H. S. teams that have won trophies.

Vinalhaven High Baseball team won the championship in 1919. Knox-Lincoln League started in 1920. Vinalhaven defeating Lincoln Academy in a play-off game for the championship. Lineup for the Vinalhaven team: Lester Mullen, pitcher, Donald Patterson, catcher; Alfred Hall, first base; Herbert Patrick, second base, Sawin Pierce, third base, Carroll Burns, s. s., Roy Ames, 1. f., Maurice Bickford, c. f., James Smith, r. f.

Following is the roster of the 1931 champions. Allen Middleton (p), Edward White (c), Victor Shields, Wendall Coombs, Dick Clifford, Donald Woodcock, Walter Lyford, Arthur Patrick, Wyman Gilford, Fred Swanson, William Young, Donald Amiro, manager, Herbert Patrick, coach.

Edwin Woodcock Charles Baum, Hollis Arey, Herbert Clayer manager, Herbert Patrick, coach.

In 1932, after V. H. S. had won the pennant, a game was played between the V. H. S. champions and an all-star team picked from the other teams of the league. It was one of the best games ever played by high school teams in these parts. The game was played in Vinalhaven and as it progressed the All-Stars were leading by a score of four to three until Wyman Gilford's home run, with two men on bases, won the game for V. H. S. by a score of six to four. Allen Middleton pitched the game for Vinalhaven and Greenlaw of Camden for the All-Stars.

Herbert Patrick coached all except one of the entire list of championship teams and a great deal of credit belongs to him for the success of the several teams.

Roster of the V. H. S. for the year 1933.

POST-WAR EXPANSION

Seen By Members Of Cain Family Foods—Meantime To Advertise

Necessary government restrictions on basic food ingredients still limit production of many members of the Cain Family Foods, but the John E. Cain Company of Cambridge, Mass., is looking ahead to increased production in the very near future.

Meanwhile, advertising to the public, conducted through the media of leading New England newspapers, has been slated to aid retailers by keep food purchasers "Cain-conscious" until more supplies become available.

"You know the facts"—says the lead ad of the 1946 Cain campaign entitled, Lady with the Shopping Bag—"There just isn't enough of the Cain Family of Foods to go around, and there cannot be as long as Uncle Sam finds it necessary to limit the use of certain basic ingredients. Meanwhile, we keep making all we can—so never stop asking for Cain's."

As shortages ease, more and more of the Cain Family of Foods will appear on the market—in quantities even greater than before the war.

Farmers In Waldo

Neighboring County Will Receive Filbert and Black Walnut Plants

The supervisors of the Waldo County Soil Conservation District will receive and distribute free to Waldo County farmers in the Spring, a large quantity of choice hybrid filbert plants and Thomas and Ohio varieties of black walnuts. The filbert plants and walnuts are being made available to the District Supervisors by the Soil Conservation Service for observational planting purposes and also to interest more farmers in planting nut trees for a future crop and source of income.

The hybrid filberts were produced at the USDA Experimental Nursery at Beltsville, Maryland, and is considered to be choice planting stock. The filberts are to be planted for nut production and they grow rapidly, producing a large nut in 2 to 4 years.

The black walnuts are selected varieties of the Ohio and Thomas walnuts. The Ohio variety develops into a tree symmetrical and upright in form and produces a large nut of the finest quality. It is one of the earliest bearing of the walnuts. The Thomas variety also produces a nut of high quality and is a fast grower and adapts itself to a wide range of soils and climates.

The planting of trees as a crop is a part of District Supervisors program in Waldo County. Most farmers have land that is available for planting to a supplement crop and nut trees, in addition to furnishing an additional source of income, holds the soil which is the chief objective of the Supervisor's soil conservation program. The District Supervisors who are John Edgerly, Unity; George Deering, Brooks; Lester Jackson, Freedom; Jim Woodbury, Morrill; and Hezzie Ward, Thorndike, have announced that the specialized planting stock can be obtained free by Waldo County farmers upon application to them direct or to the District Conservationist, H. Y. Forsythe, District Supervisor's office, in the Masonic Building in Belfast.

A supply of tree and log cruising sticks is being purchased by the Waldo County Soil Conservation District for use by farmers in the county. The Supervisors of the District believe that farm woodlot owners should know more about the amount and value of their timber and the cruising sticks will prove of considerable benefit.

First introduced by the Federal Land Bank several years ago, the cruising sticks have recently been revised and can be obtained at a small charge from the Soil Conservation Service offices in Belfast and Unity. With the cruising sticks, farmers can obtain the board foot volume or cords in any standing tree and also the volume of logs. According to Soil Conservation Service technicians, the use of cruising sticks by farmers is an important tool in getting proper woodland cutting practices started. There are five scales on the sticks, four for estimating the volumes of standing trees, and one for log scaling. The cruising sticks are easy to use and can help Waldo County farmers in the proper management of their wooded areas.

HOUSE OF THE MONTH

Satisfaction in spaciousness is successfully combined with economy in this unique mid-western design for the owner of a small home.

The effective staggered floor levels divide the sleeping quarters on a half story from the living portion of this home and provide a hobby room, equally attractive to both "Mr. and Mrs." on the basement level—just seven steps below the living room. A complete heating unit and laundry room with plenty of built-in space is also a part of the basement with a side set apart for workshop and benches.

Living room and dining room gracefully form the frontal section and are separated by a wall length sheet of glass plating set above the built-in dining room case. A centrally located fireplace and full length picture window, framed by two glass doors leading to the outdoor garden terrace, are the salient features of a large living room.

A carefully laid out kitchen, with protected service entry and adjacent basement stairway, boasts its workability because of its desirable built-in wall units for equipment. Windows, that are five feet above floor level, both in the two bedrooms and adjoining bath add privacy to the advantages of generous lighting and cross ventilation. Rear house windows are of normal sill height. Twin closets are a part of each bedroom with handy linen closet in the adjacent hall.

The charming exterior of The Beekman is of wide horizontal clap board with large painted brick chimney blending nicely in an interesting elevation. A matching low brick wall borders the cement block terrace designed for gracious summertime living and entertaining.

The Beekman has been designed to comply with the standards and construction requirements of the F.H.A., while all of the electrical wiring has been checked and approved by the National Adequate Wiring Bureau.

Sketches of this house and many others are now available at the Rockland Loan and Building. These depict the artist's rendering of the house in colors and also include complete floor plans and sizes. Blueprints and complete specifications with alternates for all Houses-of-the-Month may also be inspected.

Friends
New friends fill needed spaces,
Left lonely in your heart;
New friends fill days with happiness
From which we would not part;
They come to us from somewhere,
They bring us all good cheer;
Now we're sorry to lose them
Part of brave month of the year.
Come back and lend your presence
In circles of dear old friends,
Let us call you by that name,
Where you will always remain.

Camden Commandery, K. T., had its first ladies' night in several years Wednesday. About 80 couples assembled at the tables for a first class dinner prepared by Finlay Calder. Walter Johnson, pianist, and Grace Lenfest, harpist, gave a fine musical program. There was dancing and cards after the concert. Those winning prizes in the progressive whist were, ladies' first: Mrs. William Caswell; consolation: Mrs. Robie Ames, Lincolnville; men's first, J. A. Brewster; consolation, William Caswell.

The prayer meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Monday gave evidence of the enthusiasm with which the new program under Albert Means, secretary, is being received. Fifty-six boys and girls, ranging from six to 15 years of age, were present and entered heartily into the singing of hymns with Mrs. Myrtle Wheeler at the piano. Mr. Means gave a short talk and there were a few moments of silent prayer. These meetings will be held each Monday beginning at 7 o'clock. On the last Monday of each month there will be a party. No Y.M.C.A. membership for boys and girls of any age is required to attend these meetings. As the schedule progresses, officers will be elected and the young folks will conduct their own business.

Tonight in the Universalist vestry at 8 o'clock the Rubinstein Club will present a pageant of Allied and Associate Nations and their national anthems, interspersed with musical numbers. A very elaborate program has been prepared under the direction of the chairman, Mrs. Grace M. Strout. Captain Keryn ap Rice will be the narrator and Mrs. Kathleen Newman, pianist.

Rev. Tolman Fernald

Rev. Tolman H. Fernald, after a long illness passed to his Heavenly home Jan. 29 in Walldoboro, being 82 years of age.

Mr. Fernald was born in Belfast, son of Lewis O. Fernald of that town and after many years of successful active ministry in the Baptist denomination he retired eight or ten years ago to settle at Walldoboro with his wife, who was formerly Abbie K. Simmonds of Friendship and Walldoboro. They were married late in life. No children were born to them and in his long last sickness he was tenderly cared for by his faithful wife.

Mr. Fernald served Baptist Churches in Akron, Ohio and then came to Maine where he married and together they held pastorates in East Lebanon, Maine, Woolwich and other places where they made a host of friends. They were highly esteemed by many Summer visitors, as well as those of their pastorates, from whom they had a great many valuable gifts in appreciation of their loyal work.

Mr. Fernald had several major operations, and suffered greatly, but in it all he never murmured or complained. He was of a clear studious mind up to the last few days of his life.

Dr. John S. Pendleton, executive secretary of the United Baptist Convention of Maine, will offer the eulogy at the South Walldoboro Baptist Church and ministers of the Damariscotta Association of which Mr. Fernald was a member, will act as bearers.

Members of the Christian Advent Church of Friendship will be represented in the person of their newly settled pastor, who will sing "Under His Wings." Interment will be at South Walldoboro in the private lot there.

Centennial Comment

Bath Daily Times
The 100th anniversary of The Courier-Gazette was observed last week with special "Anniversary Edition," which reflects great credit upon that fine newspaper. A great contribution to the life of Rockland and its neighboring communities has been made by this century of service by The Courier-Gazette, and its service has reached far and wide to many people. Its hosts of friends in the newspaper world; among its subscribers and throughout Maine with The Courier-Gazette another century of life surpassing in usefulness the one it has just brought to a successful close.

Robert P. Bellows of Boston: May I congratulate The Courier-Gazette for its marvelous centennial issue. I have made a little booklet of the various cuts, etc., which I call the "Rockland Baedeker."

Fred C. Simmons of Watertown, N. Y.: "Paper just arrived with the good news of the anniversary number, that I have been looking forward to for a year now. Theoretically I have been picking up bones and selling greens to be prepared for an added cost. I will have to put a notice of 'Not home for a week' on the door. The paper has been fortunate in its choice of editors. I congratulate The Courier-Gazette, on its long life of service, and hope its future will be as successful as its past."

Mrs. Fred N. Philbrook of Matineus: "Today we received your centennial number, and it certainly is very interesting. The reading and many pictures. I am sure all of your subscribers are enjoying the paper as much as we are."

Frank B. Nichols of Bath to Mrs. Kathleen S. Fuller: Kindly allow me to congratulate you and your staff for its fine hundredth anniversary edition. I know something of the effort required and its completeness shows much preparation and hard work. It is a fitting tribute to your distinguished and able husband and fellow workers and also to those who succeeded him.

Rev. F. W. O'Brien, D.D., of Portland: May I express my heartfelt congratulations to your splendid staff. You all have done honor to the wisdom and judgment of your dear husband William O. Fuller. "This And That" has been a glowing feature reading K. S. F.'s fine mind and personality may she long continue to wield your facile pen to enlighten and instruct.

Ruth A. Ellingwood

Mrs. Ruth A. Ellingwood, Representative to Legislature, spoke Thursday to Mrs. Gatzcombe's Senior Problems of Democracy classes regarding State Legislature. Her informative talk was based upon her experience as a member of the House, and told of the necessary qualifications of a member of that body and of the Senate, how the seats are chosen, the work of the committees, and especially of those of which she was a member, and how laws are passed.

She told how the Rockland City Charter was acted upon, the signing of it by Gov. Hildreth before E. C. Moran, Jr., and the presentation of the pen which he used to Mr. Moran. Mrs. Ellingwood urged students to learn as much about participation in government as possible so that they would feel that their knowledge was adequate if and when interested in filling such positions. Over 100 other students who were having a study period at that time were privileged to hear speaker also. Mrs. Ellingwood had photographs of interesting persons in the State Legislature which she passed around. She then closed with these original lines: saying "Let us break down, the word Legislator alphabetically and see what kind of a person we should get."

L stands for Law Observance which we preach
E stands for Education which we try to teach
G stands for Goodness which we hope to attain
I stands for Interest in the good old State of Maine;
S stands for Service to each and every fellow man;
L stands for Loyalty to all our hopes and plans.
A stands for Action in putting our bills through
T stands for Truth in all we say and do;
O stands for Oneness in our deliberation and work
R stands for Right—may we never our duty shirk.
These are the things we are striving for
Put them all together, they spell Legislator.

Mrs. Ellingwood was introduced by Kenneth Chatto, president of the Senior Class.

A total of $992.80 was collected for defense stamps and bonds last week, or 54% for the whole school. The total for the whole school year to date is $4,505.95, according to Catherine Young, collector.

New material from the Guidance Department includes Radio Broadcasting, Movie Jobs, Free Lance writers, Television Workers, and Physical Therapy.

Betty Nute brought a collection of interesting old coins to World History class Wednesday morning.

Twelve members of the Commercial Service Club mimeographed and delivered 58 copies of "Regulations Governing Licenses and Permits" each containing 14 pages, for City Manager Farnsworth on Monday. Students doing the work were Marion Blake, Norma Howard, Barbara Lufkin, Gertrude Robshaw, Katharyn Stevens, Ava Wiggin, Madeline Hoffes Virginia Barnard Helen Pickett, Sabra Perry, Seth Batty, and Marion Lunt.

There will be no more "No School" signals for Senior High this year, as the time allotted to that has been used up.

At the Senior High assembly, Tuesday, arranged by Mr. Grant, two movies were shown, "News Parade of 1945" and "Sports Parade." Jean Young was in charge of devotions.

At the bi-weekly faculty meeting Monday, a panel discussion of "Planning for American Youth" was conducted with Mr. Smith as chairman of the group. Speakers were Miss Nichols, Mrs. Pitts, Miss Norwood, Mr. Grant, Mrs. Cooley, Mrs. Sturtevant, Principal Blaisdell, and Mr. Brann. Mr. Bowden was chairman of this meeting.

Two excellent movies were shown recently to the Junior Business and Problems of Democracy classes: Training classes, History classes, "Journalism" and "The Constitution."

Preliminary judging contests have been held by the Helping Hand 4-H Club of Jefferson and Twin Rivers 4-H of Westport Island. Final contests will be held by these clubs later.

Myrna and Marjorie Cromwell of Twin Rivers 4-H Club of Westport Island, both second year cooking girls, made yeast bread at the home of the leader, Mrs. Nina Greenleaf Jan. 18. The girls did all of the steps in breadmaking themselves and Mrs. Greenleaf said the bread was exceptionally good.

"Safety Hazards" was the subject of the last meeting of the George's Valley 4-H Club of Warren. Earl Moore, Sr., leader, led the discussion and each member took part by telling what they could do at home to prevent accidents.

CHURCHES

SERMONETTE

The Master

Nearly 2000 years ago, 13 men sat at supper in Jerusalem. They were there to celebrate the pass-over. Jews everywhere were preparing to commemorate the feast of Unleavened Bread, but among all the thousands so engaged, none today, know of any gathering save this one.

Leonardo da Vinci painted this last supper. Only the central figure knew it was to be His last supper with these devoted disciples, until He declared, "One of you shall betray me," and da Vinci painted the dramatic discussion as to which one Jesus meant. There were other great moments during that meal. Christ had known for days it was to be His last. Luke tells how passionately He had desired to eat this passover supper with them.

John says Christ said, "Ye call Me Master and so I am." Then He washed their feet and declared, "The servant is not greater than the Master."

Now, after the lapse of all these centuries. He is still master of all.

The centennial edition of The Courier-Gazette reveals the great parish I have been preaching to for 19 years, and the churches of every faith I have constantly urged my readers to support. Do it now! In days so momentous as these, one cannot afford to quibble over doctrines or creedal dogmas. Such discussions have their proper and very serious place, but not in a day when the world struggles for unity, that it may survive, and men serve God "in spirit and in truth."

To this great parish Mr. Fuller asked me to serve, I say with Whittier, "Out grows the cramping bounds of creeds. The soul is lost that's saved alone. Oh! Master, let me walk with Thee." William A. Holman.
